Last Updated: June 18, 2025

Our Privacy Notice is available in PDF form <<here>>.

At Home Chef your safety and trust are important to us. For that reason, we're committed to handling your information in a way that is transparent, fair, and worthy of your trust.

In this notice, we explain how we collect, use, disclose, retain, and protect the information that we collect about you. We also let you know about your rights. Therefore, we encourage you to read this notice as well as any supplemental or different privacy notices that may be applicable when you access or interact with certain of our affiliated brands or service offerings.

We're committed to ensuring that this notice is accessible to people with disabilities. To make accessibility-related requests, please contact us at support@homechef.com or 1-872-225-2433.

1. Who We Are

Founded in 2013 and based in Chicago, Illinois, Relish Labs LLC d/b/a Home Chef ("Home Chef," "we," "us," or "our") is the leading meal solutions company with both a retail and online presence. Home Chef is a subsidiary of The Kroger Co. (NYSE: KR). With products available from www.homechef.com and www.tempomeals.com and in retail at more than 2,400 Kroger Family of Stores, we're committed to bringing ease and convenience to home cooking through simple, delicious meals, so fans can enjoy their time at home, both in and out of the kitchen.

2. What Does This Notice Cover?

This notice covers information we collect from and about our customers and prospective customers, including, for example, when they visit or make a purchase on one of our websites or mobile applications, interact with our advertisements, interact with us through social media, participate in consumer research, promotions, contests, or otherwise access or use one of our service offerings. This notice also applies to personal information we collect about individuals with whom we have a business relationship.

Additional disclosures apply if you live in one of the following jurisdictions:

3. Information We Collect

We collect information described below to save you time and money and to make your shopping experience better. We've grouped the information we collect into categories, with some of the information listed in multiple categories. Because we only collect information when needed for a particular purpose, not all this information will apply to you:

- Personal identifiers such as name, online identifiers like user account names, and unique identifiers that we associate with you.
- Contact information such as your email address, postal address, billing address, delivery or shipping address, and phone numbers.
- Financial and payment information such as credit, debit, or other payment card numbers.
- Transaction and commercial information such as your purchase and transaction histories. With respect to individuals who interact with us in a business context, we may have commercial information about our relationship with you.
- Account information including your username, password, security questions; purchase information, coupons and savings information, address information, email and text communication preferences including your communication preferences relating to orders, marketing, and other activities; and your advertising preferences.
- Online and technical information such as your IP address and device or other persistent identifiers, browser type and version, time zone setting, device characteristics, browsing data, data related to your viewing of (and interactions with) our advertisements, and other information that we collect using cookies, pixels, SDKs, and other similar technologies.
- Usage information including information about how you use our websites, mobile applications, and other service offerings.
- Communication preferences including your preferences in receiving marketing and purchase-based advertising.
- Sensory data when we may record your voice when you contact our customer service centers.
- User content including product reviews and other feedback or content you may provide to us.
- Inferences include information derived from other information that we've collected. We create inferred and derived data elements by analyzing your shopping history in combination with other information we've collected about you to personalize product offerings, your shopping experience, marketing messages and promotional offers.

Some of the information we collect about you may include personal information that can be used to identify you, such as your name, address, and email address. In certain states, the definition of personal information may be broader and include things like IP address, mobile device ID, and unique identifiers used by cookies. When the information we collect about you is considered personal information under applicable law, we treat it as personal information.

Personal information does not include data where your identity has been removed so that we can no longer identify you or that we aggregate so that you can no longer be identified, which we may use for any purpose.

Children's Privacy

Our websites are for a general audience and are not geared toward children. We don't knowingly collect personal information from children under the age of 18. If you believe your child may have disclosed personal information to us, please call 1-872-225-2433 and we'll remove it.

4. How We Collect Your Information

The following are examples of how we may collect your information:

You or a member of your household purchase our products or services

When you purchase our products or services, we'll collect your purchase information and associate it with you or your household.

You provide it to us directly

You may give us personal information or provide it to us directly, including:

- Information you provide when you register for an account, add items to your cart on our websites or mobile applications, place an order, post reviews or other content, purchase one of our products or services, or when you otherwise contact us about our websites, products, or services. We may ask you for information when you enter a promotion or sweepstake offered by us, sign up for an event sponsored by us, or when you report a problem to us.
- Records and copies of your correspondence (including emails) and voicemail messages.
- Your responses to surveys that you complete for consumer research purposes.
- Your search queries on our websites or in our mobile applications.

Information from your device

We may collect information from a device that we've associated with you or your household. For example, we may collect information automatically when you browse our websites, use our mobile applications or other online services, or view or interact with our advertisements.

Information we collect from other companies within The Kroger Family of Companies

We may collect your information from another company in the Kroger Family of Companies. For example, The Kroger Co.'s wholly-owned subsidiary 84.51° LLC collects personal information from other Kroger Family of Companies to support business operations.

We receive it from others

We may receive personal information about you from others, including, for example, data analytics providers, data enrichment providers, AdTech companies, and consumer research providers. We may also receive information about you from commercially available sources such as data aggregators and public databases.

If you create an account with us using your Google account or another third-party account, we may receive certain information about you from Google or another third party to enable us to create your account.

Finally, from time to time, we receive information from others that has been deidentified so that it is no longer personal information under applicable law. When we receive deidentified data from others, we commit to maintaining and using that data in deidentified form without attempting to reidentify it.

5. Cookies and Other Technologies

Cookies

A cookie is a small data file that is stored by your browser on your device. We use cookies to deliver a better experience by, for example, remembering your preferences and opt-outs.

Other examples of why we use cookies include:

- To learn about how you interact with our websites
- To detect and prevent fraud
- To conduct analytics activities
- To improve our websites and services
- To facilitate Interest Based Advertising

In many cases the data collected through these cookies is controlled by us, but in some cases the data collected through use of these cookies is controlled by our vendors or other third parties.

Cookies may remain on your device for an extended period. If you use your browser's method of blocking or removing cookies, some, but not all, types of cookies may be deleted and/or blocked. If you delete or block cookies, some functionality on our websites may not work properly.

Other Tracking Technologies

In addition to cookies, we may use other types of tracking technologies in connection with our websites, mobile applications, advertisements, and other digital service offerings.

Like with cookies, the data collected through these other types of tracking technologies is in many cases controlled by us. However, in some cases the data collected through these other technologies is controlled by our vendors or other third parties.

Examples of other tracking technologies include:

--Web Beacons

Web beacons are embedded images or objects that are used on web pages or emails. Examples of why we may use web beacons include:

- For business analytics purposes, such as understanding the number of people who visit a webpage or view specific content within a webpage
- To improve our websites and services
- To detect and prevent fraud
- To verify system and server integrity

--Embedded Scripts

We may use embedded scripts that collect information about your interactions with our websites, mobile applications, and advertisements. These scripts are temporarily loaded into your web browser and are active only while you're connected to our websites, mobile applications, or advertisements.

--In-App Tracking Technologies

Our mobile applications may use in-app tracking technologies including code from packages referred to as software development kits (SDKs). SDKs are packages of tools that help our mobile applications function in some way. For example, we may use code from SDKs in our mobile applications to:

- Develop our applications to work with certain operating systems or platforms
- Provide you an in-app map
- Personalize advertising

Like with cookies, in many cases the data collected through these SDKs is controlled by us, but in some cases the data collected through use of these SDKs is controlled by our vendors or other third parties.

Unlike cookies, SDKs and other in-app tracking technologies are not browser based and therefore cannot be controlled through browser settings.

--Device and Activity Monitoring Technologies

We may use technologies that monitor and record your experience and interactions with our websites and mobile applications, such as the features you engage with, how you navigate our websites and mobile applications, your keystrokes, cursor movements, scrolling activity, and click-related activity. These technologies may also collect and analyze information from your device, such as your operating system, plug-ins, and system fonts.

Examples of why we may monitor your experiences and interactions include:

- To troubleshoot issues on our website, mobile apps, and services
- To understand and improve our websites, mobile applications, and services
- To customize your experience
- To respond to your inquiries and requests
- To detect and prevent fraud
- To detect security incidents and other malicious activity
- To verify system and server integrity

Third-Party Interactive Features

We may engage vendors to provide certain interactive features on our websites. Your use of these interactive features on our websites is voluntary, and we may retain the information that you submit through these features. For example, we may offer an interactive chat feature on the websites to assist you with your order and other customer service purposes. When you participate in the interactive chat, the contents of the chat may be captured and kept as a transcript. By using these features, our vendors may process the information obtained through the feature to provide the service on our behalf.

Third-Party Analytics

We may use third-party analytics providers to help us analyze how you use or interact with our websites, services, advertisements, and mobile applications.

Our websites and apps use Google Analytics. You can learn more about how Google Analytics collects and processes data at “How Google uses information from sites or apps that use our services” and in the Google Privacy Policy. Information about Google Analytics’ current opt-outs for web is available here.

In some cases, we may integrate the analytics services we use with certain advertising services that are also made available by our analytics providers. For example, we integrate Google Analytics with the following Google advertising features:

- Remarketing with Google Analytics
- Cross Device Remarketing & Reporting
- Google Analytics Demographics & Interest Reporting
- Google Display Network Impression Reporting

You can opt-out of Google Analytics advertising features directly with Google through its Ads Settings, Ad Settings for mobile apps functionality, and through the NAI’s consumer opt-out mechanism available here.

6. How We Use Your Information

We use your information to:

- provide you the products and services you purchase or request
- improve your shopping experience
- improve our products and services
- fulfill your requests
- personalize our product offerings, services, and marketing to you
- maintain and service your accounts

- support our business operations and functions, including fraud prevention, marketing, merchandising, security, and legal

We may use technologies including those that use machine learning and artificial intelligence to support our use cases.

Below are more specific examples of how we use your information:

- To provide you with products and services you purchase or request including, for example, to securely process your payments, fulfill your orders or requests, and provide customer service.
- To operate our businesses including our mobile applications and websites.
- To conduct marketing, personalization, and advertising, which may include personalized offers, coupons, and advertisements. We may also use purchased-based advertising to show you advertisements and offers that are more relevant to you on other websites, mobile applications, and digital channels.
- For Interest-Based Advertising purposes.
- To communicate with you, such as providing account notifications or order status updates, providing product recall notifications, confirming your preferences, engaging with you on social media, or providing you information about relevant programs, contests, sweepstakes, or other promotions or offerings.
- For research purposes, such as learning about our customers' experience with a new product or service offering.
- To design and develop new product and service offerings.
- To conduct business analytics, for such purposes as forecasting and planning, developing statistics on engagement with our websites and application, and measuring how well marketing and promotional activities perform.
- For safety and security purposes, including to:
 - Detect and respond to threats to our online operations,
 - Protect the health and safety of our customers, associates, and the public
 - Prevent, investigate, and prosecute fraud and other criminal activities
- To improve how we do business, improve our products and services, and your shopping experience.
- For other internal business purposes such as:
 - To authenticate users of our websites and applications
 - For quality control and training
 - For system administration and technology management, including optimizing our websites and applications
 - For recordkeeping and auditing purposes
 - For risk management, investigations, reporting and other legal and compliance reasons
 - Identifying prospective customers, suppliers, business clients, and other vendors
 - Administer our relationships with our customers, suppliers, business clients, and other vendors
 - In connection with mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, or similar corporate transactions
- To fulfill our legal obligations.
- To fulfill or meet the request for which information is provided.
- To fulfill other notified purposes that we describe to you at the time we collect your information.

7. How We Share Your Information

We may share your information as follows:

- The Kroger Family of Companies. We may share your information with the Kroger Family of Companies that may use your personal information as described in this notice.
- Service Providers. We may share your information with service providers to support our business operations. For example, we use service providers to send electronic mail and mobile messages, and conduct analyses that enable us to improve our products, services, websites. We also use service providers, for researching, digital marketing, fulfilling orders, streaming videos, managing payments, and responding to inquiries. Except as permitted by applicable law, we don't allow service providers to retain, use, disclose or otherwise process the personal information for their own purposes. This restriction includes not permitting them to send you SMS messages for their own purposes.
- AdTech Companies. We may share with or make available personal information to AdTech companies. When we share your information in this context, we follow applicable legal requirements, which may require that we provide opt-out rights or other individual rights.
- Third Parties. Where we have the legal right, we may share or otherwise make your information available to business partners or other third parties for a business purpose that we've approved (excluding mobile messaging opt ins). When we disclose information in this context, we make sure that we comply with applicable legal requirements, which may include providing opt-out or other rights with respect to the shared data. We require that the recipients of this data protect such data, obey use restrictions, and comply with all applicable laws.
- Co-Branded Offerings. Sometimes we may offer you a co-branded product, service, or other promotion in cooperation with another business. When we disclose your information to our co-branding partner in this context, we prohibit them from using the information provided for purposes outside of the co-branded offering. If you choose to take advantage of a co-branded offer, the information that you provide directly to our co-branding partner will be subject to their privacy notice and practices.
- Legal Requirements and Government Authorities. We may share your personal information where we believe the disclosure is required by law, or otherwise necessary to comply with the law, regulatory requirements, requests from public authorities, or to enforce our agreements or policies, to protect the rights and property of our customers, the company, other businesses, or the public (including for fraud prevention purposes and to prevent, investigate and prosecute criminal activities).
- Security and Safety Disclosures. Where permitted by applicable law, we may disclose your personal information to our affiliates and other persons and entities for the purpose of protecting the rights, safety, security, and property of our customers, associates, and the public. We may also disclose this information to protect and enforce our rights (including for fraud prevention purposes and to prevent, investigate and prosecute criminal activities) and to assist others to do the same.
- Corporate Transactions. We may disclose personal information, as part of any actual or contemplated merger, sale, transfer of assets, acquisition, bankruptcy, or similar event, including related to due diligence conducted prior to such event, where permitted by law.
- With Notice or Consent. We may also disclose information about you, including personal information to other third parties, where we've provided specific notice to you or asked for your consent, as required by law.

Notwithstanding anything else in this notice, we may share data that has been aggregated or deidentified in such a manner that it is no longer considered personal information for any purpose. When we share aggregated or deidentified data, we require recipients to refrain from reidentifying the data and to pass this obligation on to downstream recipients.

8. Interest-based Advertising

Interest-based advertising (also known as online behavioral advertising) occurs when advertisements are displayed to you based on information collected from your online interactions over time and across multiple websites that you visit, or across multiple devices or online services that you may use. Companies that engage in interest-based advertising use this information to predict your preferences and show you ads that are most likely to be of interest to you.

Some of the content, applications, and tracking technologies on our websites and mobile application is controlled by third parties, which include AdTech companies (such as Meta or Google) or other online service providers that serve interest-based advertisements. These third parties may use cookies (both first-party and third-party), web beacons, and other storage technologies to collect or receive information from our websites, mobile applications, and elsewhere on the Internet and use that information to provide measurement services as well as for interest-based advertising. Data collected or received by these third parties may be used to provide advertising related services to us or others.

These third parties may provide you with ways to choose not to have your information collected or used in this way.

For example, you can block the collection and use of information related to you by online platforms and AdTech companies for the purpose of serving interest-based advertising by visiting the website of the self-regulatory program of which those companies are members. The Digital Advertising Alliance's opt-out page is available here.

You may still see "contextual" ads even if you opt out of interest-based ads. These ads, however, are based on the context of what you're looking at on the websites and pages you visit. Even if you opt out of interest-based ads you'll still receive these non-personalized, contextual ads.

9. Use Content and Third-Party Links

Some content or links on our websites and mobile applications may be served or made available by third parties including the following:

User Content

Our websites and mobile applications may allow you to upload your own content to be displayed to the public. Any information you submit becomes public information, and we don't control how others may use the content you submit. We're not responsible for uses made by others that may violate our privacy policy, the law, or your intellectual property rights.

Third-party links

Our websites and mobile applications may contain links to other sites, which we don't control. Those websites have their own privacy policies and terms.

10. How We Protect Your Personal Information

We implement and maintain reasonable security procedures and practices appropriate to the nature of the information we maintain, including appropriate technical, administrative, and physical measures designed to protect information from unauthorized or illegal access, destruction, use, modification, or disclosure. You also play an important role in protecting your information. It is your responsibility to select a strong password, change it regularly, not reuse or share your password, and alert us if you have any concerns about unauthorized use of your account.

11. Your Rights and Choices

We value our relationship with you and the trust you place in us. Keeping your information and your communications preferences current is an important part of that relationship.

We understand that our customers are individuals, and communication preferences will vary by customer. That is why we offer you the ability to manage what types of communications you receive from us and the ability to manage or change your preferences. Your rights may vary depending on where you're located. We've created mechanisms to provide you with the following options:

Updating your account information

If you have an account with us, you can log in and update, modify, and delete data from within your account.

Managing your marketing and other communication preferences

You can manage your marketing and other communications preferences (text, email, push, purchase based advertising, etc.) by logging into your account on our websites or mobile applications. Your communications preferences can be managed under the “Preferences” section of your account.

To opt-out of receiving personalized offers and coupons by regular mail from us, please contact the customer contact center as described below. Note that you may still receive non-personalized mailers and flyers sent to your physical mailing address.

Please allow a reasonable amount of time for any changes to your settings to take effect.

Alternatively, you can unsubscribe from any marketing emails or text messages that we may send you by clicking the unsubscribe option in the footer of an email or texting “STOP” in response to a text message that you receive from us.

Cookies and Tracking Technologies

You can set your browser to refuse all or some browser cookies, or to alert you when websites set or access cookies. If you disable certain cookies, please note that some parts of our websites may not function properly. If you’ve opted-out of sales, sharing for cross-context behavioral advertising or targeted advertising, or set other preferences, then those opt-outs or preferences may be lost if you delete your cookies.

Interest-Based Advertising

Information about interest-based advertising and how to opt-out of it is described in the Interest-Based Advertising section of this notice.

12. Changes to this Policy

This policy is subject to change at our discretion. We will indicate changes to the policy by updating the “Last Updated” date at the beginning of the policy. We will communicate material changes to you in accordance with applicable law, which may include through a notice on the website home page or a notice to the email address specified in your account (if you have an account with us). Your continued use of our websites or our other services after any update to this policy will constitute your acceptance of our changes.

13. Privacy Questions and Comments

Our customer contact centers are ready to take your questions and comments about this policy or our privacy practices. You can reach us by telephone at 1-872-225-2433 or via email at support@homechef.com.

14. Contacting Our Privacy Program (Applicant, Current or Former Associate, B2B Partner)

If you live in Nevada, you can opt out of the sale of your personal information by completing the privacy request form here.

Privacy Notice for California Residents

1. Introduction and Scope

This Privacy Notice for California residents supplements the information contained in our Home Chef Privacy Notice and applies to residents of the State of California (“consumers” or “you”). We adopt this notice to comply with the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (as amended, and together with related regulations the “CCPA”) and any terms defined in the CCPA shall have the same meaning when used in this notice.

This notice does not apply to workforce-related personal information collected from California-based employees, job applicants, contractors, or similar individuals but does apply to personal information collected in the context of business-to-business (B2B) transactions.

This notice applies to “personal information” that we collect, meaning information that identifies, relates to, describes, references, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or household (“personal information”). Personal information does not include:

- Publicly available information from government records.
- Deidentified or aggregated consumer information.
- Information excluded from the CCPA's scope, like health or medical information covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) and the California Confidentiality of Medical Information Act (CMIA), clinical trial data, or other qualifying research data.

- Personal information covered by certain sector-specific privacy laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA), the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA) or California Financial Information Privacy Act (FIPA), and the Driver's Privacy Protection Act of 1994.

2. CCPA Notice at Collection

We collect personal information to save you time and money, to deliver the products and services you request, to enhance your shopping experience, and to support our business operations.

We may collect the personal information and sensitive personal information categories listed in the tables below. The tables also list, for each category, use purposes, and whether we currently sell the personal information or share it with third parties for cross-context behavioral advertising.

To opt-out of personal information sales or sharing, visit our privacy preference center. More information about our data practices can be found in our full Privacy Notice.

Retention

Except as otherwise permitted or required by applicable law or regulation, we'll keep your personal information for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected or for purposes that are compatible with the purposes that we have previously disclosed.

3. Other CCPA Disclosures

The following is a description of our online and offline information practices over the previous 12 months and other disclosures required by the CCPA.

(A) Personal information collected

The categories of personal information and sensitive personal information that we've collected about consumers in the past 12 months are the same as the categories described in our Notice at Collection.

(B) Sources of personal information

Please refer to How we collect your personal information, which describes the sources of personal information.

(C) Purpose for collecting personal information

Please see our Notice at Collection for an explanation of the reasons we collect personal information.

(D) Information about personal information that we've sold or shared

Home Chef is committed to delivering great products, great experiences, and great values. From time to time, we may use or disclose your information in a manner that is considered a "sale" or "sharing" under California law to provide the most relevant product recommendations and deliver marketing messages and personalized offers through select companies (e.g., analytics, advertising, and technology companies). Those companies help us match your interests with brands who want to send promotions and offers that we believe save you money on products you buy frequently, and help you discover new products or services that you might like. When we work with these companies, your privacy, data integrity and security remain a priority.

4. Your California Privacy Rights

The CCPA provides California consumers (residents) with specific rights regarding their personal information including:

- The right to know about personal information we collect about you and how it is used and disclosed
- The right to delete personal information (with some exceptions)
- The right to correct inaccurate personal information
- The right to opt-out of the sale and sharing of your personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising
- In some cases, the right to limit the use or disclosure of sensitive personal information
- The right to non-discrimination for exercising your CCPA rights

(A) Your Right to Know

You have the right to know what personal information we've collected about you. Once we receive your request and verify your identity (as described below), we'll disclose to you:

- The categories of personal information.
- The categories of sources from which personal information has been collected.
- The business or commercial purpose for collecting or selling personal information.

- The categories of third parties with whom we disclose your personal information.
- The specific pieces of personal information we've collected about you.
- If we sold your personal information or shared your personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising, the categories of personal information we've sold or shared.

(B) Your Right to Delete

You have the right to request that we delete personal information that we've collected from you and retained, subject to certain exceptions. Once we receive your request and verify your identity, we'll review the request to see if an exception applies that allows us to retain some or all your information. If an exception applies, we'll provide you information about that exception.

(C) Your Right to Correct

You have the right to correct inaccurate personal information that we maintain about you. If you have an account with us, you can log in and update, modify, and delete data from within your account.

(D) Your Right to Opt-Out of Sales and Sharing for Cross-Context-Behavioral Advertising

We don't sell or share personal information of consumers who we know are younger than 18 years of age.

Some of our websites or mobile applications use cookies or other tracking technologies that share data that may be considered a sale under the CCPA or may be used for cross-context behavioral advertising. Apart from our websites and mobile apps, we may disclose or otherwise make your data available to others in a manner that is considered a sale under the CCPA.

You may request that we stop selling and sharing your personal information ("opt-out").

(E) Your Right to Limit Use of Your Sensitive Personal Information

We don't provide a right to limit your sensitive personal information in cases where we're permitted to use such data under the CCPA without offering you the right to limit your use.

(F) Right to Non-Discrimination

You have the right not to be discriminated against for exercising any of your CCPA rights.

5. How to Exercise Your CCPA Rights

(A) Your right to know, delete, or correct

To exercise your right to know or delete, as described above, you or your authorized representative may submit a request by either:

- Selecting the privacy right you wish to exercise on our privacy request form
- Calling us at 1-872-225-2433

To exercise your right to correct, as described above, you can log in and update, modify, and delete data from within your account.

We'll only use personal information provided in a consumer request to verify the request and to meet our legal obligations. We can't fulfill your request if we can't verify your identity or authority to make the request and confirm the personal information that is the subject of the request relates to you.

(B) Your right to opt-out of sales and sharing

To exercise the right to opt-out, you (or your authorized representative) may submit a request to us by visiting our privacy preference center.

Opt-Out Preference Signals

You may also opt out of the of sales or sharing on our websites through an opt-out preference signal. To process your request through an opt-out preference signal, you must use a browser supporting the preference signal. If you choose to use an opt-out preference signal, we'll opt you out of sales and sharing in the context of cookies and tracking technologies from the browser for which you have the opt-out preference signal enabled.

6. Who May Submit Requests?

Only you, or someone legally authorized to act on your behalf (an authorized agent), may make a request under the CCPA on another consumer's behalf. You may also make a verifiable consumer request on behalf of your minor child.

Requests to know, correct, or delete

If you use an authorized agent to submit a request, we may require that the authorized agent provide us with proof that you gave the agent signed permission to submit the request. In addition, we may also require you to do either of the following: (1) verify your own identity directly with us; or (2) directly confirm with us that you've provided the authorized agent permission to submit the request on your behalf. These requirements of proof don't apply if the agent has a power of attorney pursuant to California Probate Code.

We may deny a request from an authorized agent if the agent can't meet the above requirements. Further, before responding to a request from an authorized agent, we'll still require the authorized agent to provide us with enough information so that we can verify your identity.

Requests to opt-out and limit sharing

You may also use an authorized agent to exercise opt-out rights and to limit the use of sensitive personal information. In each case the agent must provide us with documentation demonstrating that you've provided signed permission to the agent to exercise these rights with us on your behalf. We may deny the request if we don't receive such documentation.

7. How Often Can You Submit Requests?

With limited exceptions, you may only make a verifiable consumer request to know your personal information twice within a 12-month period.

8. How Do We Verify Requests?

Before fulfilling your request, we take steps to verify you are who you say you are or that you have authority to act upon someone else's behalf. One way we verify you is through your account. If you don't provide your account number, we may request additional information that we need to verify you and, if you're submitting a request on behalf of someone else, to verify that you're permitted to act on that person's behalf.

When we contact you to request verification information, please respond and provide the information that we've requested. Depending on the nature of the request you make, we may require you to verify your identity to either a "reasonable degree of certainty" or "high degree of certainty". This means that we need to match two or three pieces of information that we hold about you with information that you provide to us. In addition, we may ask for knowledge-based qualifiers during the verification process. This data we need to match or ask for you to provide could include, but is not limited to, email address, mailing address, phone number, date of last purchase, and purchase amount.

In some cases, we may require you to sign a declaration under penalty of perjury that you're the consumer whose personal information is the subject of the request or that you're authorized to make the request on behalf of someone else.

In addition to providing the information we need to verify you or your authority, you must provide us with enough information so that we can understand, evaluate, and respond to your request. We can't respond to a request or provide you with personal information if we can't confirm the personal information relates to you.

We'll only use personal information provided in the request to verify your identity or authority to make a request on behalf of someone else.

CCPA Metrics Report

We've prepared a report on the status of CCPA privacy requests for the previous year. This report details the number of requests to know, requests to delete, requests to opt out of sale and sharing, requests to correct and requests to limit the use of sensitive personal information that we received, complied with, and denied as well as the mean number of days within which we responded to each privacy request. Other California Disclosures

(A) Shine the Light

California's "Shine the Light" law (Civil Code Section § 1798.83) permits California residents to request certain details about how their personal information is shared with third parties, and in some cases affiliates, if personal information is shared for those third parties- or affiliates' own direct marketing purposes. We do not share personal information with third parties or affiliates for those third parties' or affiliates' own direct marketing purposes.

Californians may request information about our compliance with this law by contacting us at support@homechef.com or by sending a letter to:

Relish Labs LLC d/b/a Home Chef
433 W. Van Buren St.
Suite 750N
Chicago, IL 60607
Attention: Privacy Officer

Any such request must include your name and "California Shine the Light Privacy Rights Request" in the first line of the description and, if sent by mail, must include your street address, city, state, and zip code.

Please note that "Shine the Light" rights and CCPA rights are granted by different laws.

(B) Do Not Track

We don't respond to "Do Not Track" (DNT) signals. However, we do honor opt-out preference signals (global privacy control) as described above.

- Online and other technical information; and
- Inferences

When we disclose or otherwise make available such information, we may do so to the following categories of third parties: AdTech vendors, social networks, technology/SaaS providers, analytics providers, identity resolution providers, data enrichment providers and third parties. You can learn more about how third parties may process personal data by visiting the How We Share Your Information section above.

Your Rights Under State Consumer Privacy Laws

If you’re a resident of a state that has enacted a State Consumer Privacy Law, then, subject to certain conditions and exclusions, you have the following rights with regard to your personal data:

1. Right to access. You have the right to request access to and obtain a copy of any personal data that we may hold about you.
2. Right to correct. You have the right to request that we correct inaccuracies in your personal data. Although Iowa and Utah laws do not grant its residents this right, we grant Iowa and Utah residents the right to request correction of their data.
3. Right to delete. You have the right to request that we delete personal data that we have collected from or obtained about you.
4. Right to opt out of the sale of personal data. You may request that we stop disclosing or making your personal data available in a way that is considered a “sale”.
5. Right to opt out of targeted advertising. You may request that we stop disclosures of your personal data for targeted advertising.
6. Right to withdraw consent/opt out of the processing of sensitive data. If you have previously granted us consent to process your sensitive data, you have the right to withdraw consent/opt out of further processing of your sensitive data. We don’t collect sensitive personal information and as such don’t offer this right.
7. Right to opt out of profiling. You have the right to opt out of profiling in furtherance of decisions that produce legal or similarly significant effects. We don’t profile in a manner that would result in legal or similarly significant effects and as such don’t offer this right.
8. Right to appeal. If you live in Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Iowa, Maryland, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas, or Virginia and are unsatisfied with our decision not to take action on your request to exercise one of your privacy rights, you may appeal our decision.

9. Right to non-discrimination. If you choose to exercise any of the privacy rights described above, we won't deny our products or services to you, charge you different prices or provide a different level or quality of products or services to you unless those differences are related to the value of your personal data.
10. Delaware Residents. If you live in Delaware, you have the right to obtain a list of the categories of third parties to which we have disclosed your personal data.
11. Maryland Residents. If you live in Maryland, you have the right to obtain a list of the categories of third parties to which we have disclosed personal data.
12. Minnesota and Oregon Residents. If you live in Minnesota or Oregon, you have the right to obtain a list of the specific third parties to which we have disclosed personal data. You also have the right to obtain a list of the categories of personal data we have processed about you.

How to Exercise Your Rights Under State Consumer Privacy Laws

You may exercise your privacy rights by either:

- Submitting a request online:
 - For a request to opt out of sales or targeted advertising, click on the following privacy preference center link: Privacy Preference Center
 - For all other privacy requests by clicking on the following privacy request form link: privacy request form
- Calling us at 1-872-225-2433

We'll only use personal data that you provide in a request to authenticate the request. We won't further disclose the personal data and will retain it only as necessary for the purpose of authentication and to meet our legal obligations. We can't fulfill your request if we can't authenticate it and confirm the personal data that is subject of the request relates to you.

Opt-Out Preference Signals

You may also be able to opt out of the sale of your personal data or targeted advertising through an opt-out preference signal. To process your request through an opt-out preference signal, you must use a browser supporting the preference signal. If you choose to use an opt-out preference signal, we will opt you out of the sale of your personal data and targeted advertising in the context of cookies and tracking technologies from the browser for which you have the opt-out preference signal enabled.

Authorized Agents

In certain states you may use an authorized agent (a person or entity acting on your behalf) to submit a request to opt-out out of our processing of personal data for the purposes of targeted advertising or sales. If you use an authorized agent to submit a request, we will not act on that request unless we are able to authenticate, with commercially reasonable effort, both your identity and the authorized agent's authority to act on your behalf.
